Help hesitant enquirers move forward

Proposal for a first partnership · The Life You Choose

When referring can make sense

Someone asks you about emigrating, but is not yet sure what daily life they want to build. Their question is still mostly about direction, wishes or different possibilities. Then The Made Real Blueprint Phase 1 can be a fitting step in between.

Someone who already has a clear practical question does not have to buy my product first. Your own orientation offer stays leading wherever that fits.

What your client can do with it

Phase 1 helps people describe the life they want, explore their options and write down a decision with next steps. That can lead to moving, testing further, waiting, or changing something specific where they live now.

The product costs €99 once, for the Introduction and Steps 1 to 3, made up of PDF workbooks and a web app. The workbooks are in English. There are practical examples, based on my own experience. Phase 1 does not give personal tax, legal or visa advice.

What you get out of it

- A practical resource for a fitting early question, without having to develop an extra lesson yourself.
- A clear way back: the client can bring a short summary and a focused question to you themselves. No data is shared automatically.
- A fixed amount of €20, excluding VAT, for every sale made with your own discount code.

More returning clients or less intake work are possible benefits that we would test together. I do not promise extra revenue or a fixed number of leads.

Starting small

First we look together at where exactly the added value lies, so that we can offer this in the right way on each other's web pages. Then we start with a link of your own that carries your discount code, to assess the cooperation. After that we can always look at how to extend it further.

For a community or platform there is also free material available, such as the free exercise An ordinary Tuesday and practical guides on the site.

© 2026 Belgrave Management, Unipessoal Lda

Proposed fee

You get a discount code of your own. Your followers get 10% off Phase 1 with that code. You receive a fixed amount of €20 per sale, excluding VAT.

Worked example

Price of Phase 1, including VAT	€99.00
With your code (10% off)	€89.10
Your followers save	€9.90
You receive per sale	€20.00 excluding VAT (fixed amount)

- You share an ordinary checkout link with the code already in it. If someone types the code in themselves, without the link, that order counts too.
- Refunded orders do not count.
- I settle up every quarter, from €60, for fees that are final: at least 30 days old and not refunded. That is the same period as the money-back guarantee. Smaller amounts roll over to the next quarter.
- After each quarter I send you an overview. You then send me an invoice; I pay by bank transfer within 30 days of receiving a correct invoice. All amounts are excluding VAT.
- You do not have to sign up anywhere and no tracking script is added to your site.
- We make the cooperation visible on both sides, for example with the sentence "This is a collaboration". Your own offer stays leading.
- The full terms are at maderealblueprint.com/partner-terms.

For hosting or paid distribution we make a separate agreement about content, reach, fee and reuse. A commercial collaboration is made visible.

Getting to know each other

I am Mwata Belgrave. After leaving my life and work as an operations director in the Netherlands, I started my own consulting company. I first lived and worked in Bali for a number of years and now live in central Portugal. For me it began with the question of how I wanted to fill my ordinary days. With the Blueprint I use that experience to help others shape their own lives.

> Would you like to see whether this fits your offer? Email info@maderealblueprint.com for a short conversation about where the value lies.

maderealblueprint.com · The Life You Choose

© 2026 Belgrave Management, Unipessoal Lda